

years as chaplain and precentor at St. John's College, Hurstpierpoint, he returned to Durham as Vice-Principal of Bishop Hatfield's Hall; that office and the University lectureship in Hebrew he held for nearly half a century. Throughout all those years he zealously pursued his antiquarian researches, and published many scholarly writings on archaeological and kindred subjects. He was one of the oldest Fellows of the Society of Antiquaries and a vice-president of the Surtees Society. In 1894 the University of Durham conferred upon him the degree of D.C.L. honoris causa, and three years later he was made an honorary canon of the Cathedral. Although he retired from the practice of medicine sixty-five years ago, Canon Fowler maintained to the last his interest in the work of the profession.

Dr. DAVID ARTHUR DAVIES died on March 8th, aged 75. He was born in Swansea, received his medical education at University College Hospital, took the diploma of M.R.C.S. in 1871, and graduated M.B.Lond. in 1874. After serving as resident medical officer at University College Hospital under Sir William Jenner, resident clinical assistant at the Hospital for Consumption and Diseases of the Chest, Brompton, and house-physician to the Queen's Hospital, Birmingham, he returned to Swansea in 1877, where he continued to practise till his retirement to Sketty ten years ago. He was consulting physician to the Swansea General Hospital, and was formerly president and co-secretary of the South Wales and Monmouthshire Branch of the British Medical Association. He held a commission for many years in the 1st Welsh Brigade R.F.A.(T.F.). He is survived by a widow and five daughters. Dr. Arthur Davies was an able and acute diagnostician, and his genial manner and shrewd common sense caused him to be in great demand as a consultant all over South Wales. He was a man of wide interests, music and gardening being his favourite hobbies. In 1904 he was appointed a justice of the peace for the county borough of Swansea.

Dr. ARTHUR GARNONS LAWRENCE of Chepstow died on March 8th, in his 89th year. He was the son of Dr. Henry Lawrence of Carmarthen, and received his medical education at St. Mary's Hospital. He took the diplomas of M.R.C.S.Eng. in 1857 and L.S.A. in 1858, and graduated M.D.St. And. in 1860. On his retirement from practice in 1910 after fifty-one years' service he was publicly presented with some silver plate "as a token of regard and in affectionate and grateful recognition of long and useful service to his sick and afflicted neighbours." He was for many years chairman of the magisterial bench at Chepstow, and served for a decade as medical officer of Shirenewton and Caldicot districts and was surgeon to the Severn Tunnel Hospital. Dr. Lawrence was a justice of the peace for the county of Monmouthshire, and was chairman of the Monmouthshire Division of the British Medical Association in 1911 and a member of the South Wales and Monmouthshire Branch Council in 1904 and 1912. He was fond of sport and devoted much time to shooting, which recreation he was able to enjoy up to within a week of his death. He is survived by two sons, one of whom, Dr. Gwynne Lawrence, is a member of the medical profession, and the other is a solicitor. At the meeting of the Monmouthshire Conservative Association held on March 12th reference was made to the death of Dr. Lawrence, who had spent an energetic and long life in work, not only for that association, but for his country and for the county in which he was a well known figure.

The death occurred on January 25th of Dr. HERBERT HENRY HODGETTS ADDENBROOKE of Sparkhill, Birmingham, after some months of suffering very bravely borne. He was educated at King Edward's School, Birmingham, and qualified from the old Queen's College (now incorporated in the Birmingham University Medical School). He began practice at Sparkhill about thirty-five years ago, and subsequently became poor law medical officer and public vaccinator. Dr. Addenbrooke, who was twice married, leaves a widow and one child. He was 61 years of age. He will not be forgotten by many of us who knew his deep human sympathies and never-failing kindness.

Dr. CLEMENT HADLEY, who died at Leicester on March 11th in his 79th year, took the diploma of M.R.C.S.Eng. in 1871 and that of L.R.C.P. in 1880. He was the second son of the late Mr. John Joseph Hadley, of Colemore Row, Birmingham, and practised at Ashted Row, Birmingham, for over thirty years, and at Shilton, near Coventry, for fourteen years. He leaves a widow, two sons and two daughters.

Dr. VALLIN, medical inspector of the French Army and member of the Académie de Médecine, has recently died.

Professor FELIX VON LUSCHAN, a well known Berlin anthropologist, has recently died at the age of 79.

M. MOULÉ, a well known French veterinary surgeon, who has made numerous contributions to the history of medicine, has recently died at the age of 75.
