

CORRECTIONS

Why we can't trust clinical guidelines

Due to an editing error, the table in this Feature does not correctly display the competing interests for the author Jagoda (BMJ 2013;346:f3830, doi:10.1136/bmj.f3830). The published table incorrectly lists "FERNE only" as a competing interest for Jagoda and does not specify that this interest was disclosed. Furthermore, Genentech and AstraZeneca should have been listed as competing interests, which were both undisclosed. The corrected version of the table can be found here.

Cite this as: BMJ 2013;346:f3998

© BMJ Publishing Group Ltd 2013

Table

Table 1 | [CORRECTED VERSION] Competing interests of authors of American College of Emergency Physicians and the American Academy of Neurology guidelines on alteplase

Author	Competing interest	Disclosed
Edlow	FERNE	Yes
Smith	Genentech	Yes
Stead	None
Gronseth	Boehringer Ingelheim	Yes
Messe	Boehringer Ingelheim	Yes
Jagoda	FERNE	Yes
	Genentech	No
	AstraZeneca	No
Wears	Speaker for FERNE* (not stroke related)	No
Decker	Adviser and speaker for FERNE*	No

*It is not clear if the author was aware of the source of FERNE funding.