Common sense gun policy reforms for the United States

The authors of this Editorial have informed us of an error in the eighth paragraph (BMJ 2012;345:e8672, doi:10.1136/bmj.e8672). The third sentence reads: “Only five US states set minimum age requirements for firearm possession above that of federal law,” when, in fact, this is not accurate, nor was it true at the time of the article’s publication. Presently, twelve

US states set minimum age requirements for firearm possession above that of federal law.
