Figures show big increase in outstanding general practice premises fees

Clarification – Some of the information in this News article (BMJ 2017;358:j4529, doi:10.1136/bmj.j4529) needs to be clarified. From 2015 to 16, commissioners started removing premises subsidies previously offered to general practices by PCTs. This has resulted in many general practices being invoiced by NHS Property Services for the full cost of their occupation.
