

Keep up to date with the latest unbiased assessments of medicines and treatments

Drug and Therapeutics Bulletin provides practical, independent, evidence-based information for practising healthcare professionals. Readers are enabled to make informed and unbiased choices regarding medicines and other treatments to help patients get the best care.

You have access to:

- Content which is independent from the pharmaceutical industry, Government, regulatory authorities and commercial sponsorship
- Condensed, succinct summaries focusing on efficacy, safety, patient information and cost of a drug
- Peer reviewed evidence and practical advice on a treatments place in overall management of the disease
- CME/CPD modules consisting of five multiple choice questions related to an accompanying DTB article
- Podcasts on the latest issue of DTB and specific areas of interest or recent withdrawals of drugs.

To find out more:

Provided to you courtesy of: