

Great news, your institution recently subscribed to Research to Publication giving you full access to its online learning

Welcome to Research to Publication

What is it?

Research to Publication is a new e-learning programme to help you design, conduct and report on research that journal editors will want to publish.

Developed by BMJ and UCSF for doctors and healthcare researchers, particularly early in their careers, it comprises six courses containing 200 hours of expert tuition on 48 specific topics.

Watch Research to Publication video

Benefits

- Build technical research skills
- Improve your research quality
- Advance your career by getting papers published
- Learn at your own pace
- Understand the issues that prevent researchers getting published
- Help improve patient outcomes with new evidence

Courses

- Designing clinical research
- Introduction to clinical trials
- Responsible conduct of research
- How to write a paper
- What editors and peer reviewers look for
- Publication ethics

Modules

All materials include real examples, including policies and case studies focused on how to present and publish your research.

Work through a variety of multimedia to develop your research and publishing skills; including video lectures, narrated slides, reading materials and online assessments.

Download your Research to Publication guide

Don't forget

There is a 75% discount on Article Publishing Charges (APCs) available for study protocols that are submitted to BMJ Open, peer reviewed, and then accepted for publication. Just complete the free module on 'How to write and publish a study protocol' and submit the certificate of completion with your protocol.

Feedback

BMJ are committed to improving healthcare research worldwide and would love to hear your experiences with Research to Publication, please feel free to give us feedback via our website.

For further help and support, please visit rtop.bmj.com, email usupport@bmj.com or call 855-458-0579