Corrections

In the Medico-Legal article "Doubts about Injury" (4 February, p. 310) the reference to the accident occurring to a patient when working "in a copper dam" should have read "in a coffer dam."

An article on "Evaluation of MK-870: a New Potassium-sparing Diuretic" was published in the B.M.J. of 21 January, p. 143. MK-870 has now been given the approved name amiloroid hydrochloride.
