Corrections

Cows' milk protein intolerance: a possible association with gastroenteritis, lactose intolerance, and IgA deficiency

We regret that an error occurred in the article by Dr M Harrison and others (19 June, p 1501). In Section VII the heading of the third column should read: "Months off milk before challenge (months since gastroenteritis)."

Bites from black snakes

We regret that as a result of a subeditorial change in the letter from Drs D J P Barker and K J Foster (26 June, p 1594) the sense was inadvertently changed. In the fourth sentence of the second paragraph the phrase "we gave the patient intramuscular cortisone" should read "the patient was given intramuscular cortisone"; the patient was not under the care of the authors at that time.

Register of psychiatrists in training

We regret that owing to an oversight the letter from Dr H J Walton (26 June, p 1594) was published prematurely. The letters referred to as having already been sent to postgraduate deans and others are still in course of preparation and will, it is hoped, be sent out towards the end of the month.
