Primary and metastatic brain tumours in adults: summary of NICE guidance

Clarification - Primary and metastatic brain tumours in adults: summary of NICE guidance In this article (BMJ 2018;362:k2924, doi:10.1136/bmj.k2924) the first author, Alex Bates, listed his affiliation as the National Guideline Alliance because most of the development of the NICE guideline and, more importantly, the preparation of this guideline summary occurred while he was employed by the NGA. However, he had changed jobs before publication of the article. The authors wish to clarify that this change in jobs had no effect on the substance of the NICE guidance summary nor on the declaration of competing interests.
