

The BMJ
 Cite this as: BMJ 2021;374:n2142
<http://dx.doi.org/10.1136/bmj.n2142>
 Published: 1 September 2021

THE BIG PICTURE

Vaccine passports around the world

Mun-Keat Looi international features editor

As the world learns to live with the virus, countries are adopting vaccine certification as a way to open up borders and activities. But with a coordinated global system still some way off, large differences remain in practice.

Publisher's note: Published maps are provided without any warranty of any kind, either express or implied. BMJ remains neutral with regard to jurisdictional claims in published maps.

This article is made freely available for use in accordance with BMJ's website terms and conditions for the duration of the covid-19 pandemic or until otherwise determined by BMJ. You may use, download and print the article for any lawful, non-commercial purpose (including text and data mining) provided that all copyright notices and trade marks are retained.

BMJ: first published as 10.1136/bmj.n2142 on 1 September 2021. Downloaded from https://www.bmj.com/ on 3 December 2024 by guest. Protected by copyright.